NET ASSETS, DEC 31

$28,027

This report is for partners, pastors, and supporters who want to see more than the summary. Every figure traces to our filed 2025 Form 990-EZ, Part I and Schedule O. The statements are unaudited and prepared on a cash basis from our internal records.

The year in short

2025 was a year of real growth and one significant one-time investment. Contributions grew from $68,665 in 2024 to $169,869. We bought land for $15,000 to expand the ministry site, which is the reason expenses finished $1,963 ahead of contributions. Net assets moved from $29,990 at the start of the year to $28,027 at the end, which holds roughly one year of baseline operating costs for our Cambodian team in reserve.

Ministry funds in detail

$141,919 total. Outreach trip costs are shown separately below and explained in full on page 2, because they were funded by the travelers themselves.

CATEGORY	AMOUNT	SHARE
Programs, staff, and community assistance	$26,035	18.3%
Buildings, property, and additional community support	$46,077	32.5%

Total ministry funds	$141,919	100.0%

The outreach trip paid its own way covered travel, lodging, meals, and ministry events for the 2025 outreach team. Every dollar of it was raised by the team members who went, given specifically toward their own trip costs.

$29,913

No general ministry donations paid for participant travel. Because those gifts come in and go back out for the same purpose, we report the trip separately from the ministry funds above so it is clear what your giving supported.

Travel, explained

Travel is the question supporters ask most, and it deserves a straight answer. Two different things sat under one heading in past reports, so we have separated them.

The outreach trip: $29,913, funded by those who went Travel, lodging, meals, and ministry events for the 2025 outreach team came to $29,913. Every dollar was raised by the team members who went, given specifically toward their own trip costs. No general ministry donations paid for participant travel.

Those gifts pass through Light of Cambodia so that donors who support a traveler receive a proper receipt, and so the spending is documented and reconciled like everything else. They come in for the trip and they go back out for the trip. Reporting them inside the ministry totals made travel look like a quarter of our spending, which was never what was happening, and we have fixed how it is presented.

Leadership planning and oversight: $16,347, funded by the ministry

Separately, our President and Treasurer travel to Cambodia once a year to renew staff and partner contracts, verify in person how funds were used, walk the property, and plan the year ahead with our Cambodian team. That trip cost $16,347 and it is paid from ministry funds, because it is oversight of the ministry rather than a service trip.

It is how we can tell you with confidence that the figures in this report match what is actually happening in Pursat. The board documents the reason for each year's travel decisions, including booking class, in its records.

How trip gifts are handled. Gifts toward the outreach trip are designated to a specific traveler at the time they are given, through our online giving platform, and are applied only to that traveler's trip costs. They are reported separately from ministry funds, as shown in this report. From 2026 forward they are also recorded in dedicated income and expense accounts in our books, so this separation is visible in the accounting itself and not only in the reporting.

How we keep ourselves accountable

Oversight

A three-member board governs the organization and approves spending outside the normal operating budget. Directors sign an annual conflict of interest acknowledgment, and any director with a financial interest in a decision leaves the room for the discussion and the vote. The board has adopted written policies on conflict of interest, document retention, whistleblower protection, and gift acceptance.

Bookkeeping

Records are kept in QuickBooks Online. Every bank and credit card account is reconciled monthly against the actual statement. Funds sent to Cambodia are transferred individually to each staff member and acknowledged in writing on receipt.

Reporting

We file Form 990-EZ with the IRS each year. The return, our IRS determination letter, and our Form 1023 application are public and available on request.
